Declaration on the relevance of Chinese export controls for rare earth elements (REE)

WKK Europe is not affected by the current Chinese export controls on rare earth materials.

Our product range includes cable ties, heat shrink tubing, clamps and fastening systems. These items do not contain rare earth elements and are not based on REE-dependent technologies. Our supply chain does not include any critical raw materials that are subject to the new Chinese export regulations.

In addition, we deliberately pursue a broadly diversified sourcing strategy with reliable partners from Europe and Asia. This effectively reduces geopolitical risks. We continuously monitor regulatory developments. At present, no action is required. The availability and supply of our products to customers remains fully guaranteed.
