Product Description

WKK's spiral wrapping bands are made of flexible polyethylene or other durable plastic materials. They are designed to bundle, organize, and protect cables and hoses in industrial and commercial environments, while allowing easy cable branching.

Limits of Use

Spiral wrapping bands are intended exclusively for bundling and light protection of cables and hoses. They are not suitable for applications requiring heavy mechanical protection or static load-bearing.

Risk Assessment

- Mechanical risks are low with proper cutting and handling.
- Installation risks are minimal if appropriate tension is applied.
- Environmental risks are minimal when appropriate material is selected.
